I am pleased to announce that Governor George Pataki has renominated and the New York State Senate has today confirmed Commissioner Frederick C. Lamy of Warren County and Commissioner Daniel B. Reardon of Herkimer County to full terms as members of the State Commission of Correction.

Commissioner Lamy was originally nominated by Governor Pataki in 1999 and has served the Commission with distinction since that time. He is the former Sheriff of Warren County, having been elected four times to that office.

Commissioner Reardon was originally nominated by Governor Pataki in 2000 and has given exemplary service since then. He is the former Sheriff of Herkimer County, having been elected to three terms, and served previously as Chief Investigator for former Attorney General Dennis Vacco.

Commissioners Lamy and Reardon are outstanding public servants who have and continue to make important contributions to public safety in New York. I know you will join me in offering them congratulations on the continuation of their service.
